Screen Sound: The Australasian Journal of Soundtrack Studies
Number 2, 2011

Soundtrack Co/Improvisation

Contents

Editorial 5 - 8
Soundtrack Co/Improvising
Rebecca Coyle

Theme Features: Co/Improvisation

Liveness and the Machine: Improvisation in Live Audio-Visual Performance
Grayson Cooke 9 - 26

Beneath Clouds and The Boys: Jazz Artists Making Film Music
Matthew Hill 27 - 47

Scoring Essington: Composition, Comprovisation, Collaboration
Michael Hannan 48 - 63

Alternate Soundtracks: Silent Film Music for Contemporary Audiences
Jan Thorp & Eleanor McPhee 64 - 74

Theme Shorts and Trailers: Co/Improvisation

Crafting the Sounds of Sentiment: Jen Andersen Interviewed about The Sentimental Bloke DVD Score
Jeannette Delamoir & Karl Neuenfeldt 75 - 89

Switching Tracks: Improvising Music for the Screen – A Discussion with Mike Cooper
Philip Hayward 90 - 103

Additional Features

Synch Agents and Artist Managers: A Scarcity of Attention and An Abundance of Onscreen Distribution
Guy Morrow 104 - 117

Ancient Archetypes: The ‘Greek Chorus’ in The Tracker’s Songs
Anthony Linden Jones 118 - 131
Additional Shorts and Trailers

Screen Music Futures: Deriving Income from Screen Composition – An Australian Industry Symposium 132 - 146
Rebecca Coyle & Natalie Lewandowski

Directing Music-Based Documentaries: Curtis Levy on The Matilda Candidate and Hephzibah 147 - 158
Adolfo Cruzado

Contributor Profiles 159 - 161