GRAYSON COOKE
Dr Grayson Cooke is an interdisciplinary scholar and media artist, Senior Lecturer in the School of Arts and Social Sciences at Southern Cross University, and Course Coordinator of the Bachelor of Media degree. Grayson has exhibited works of new media and photography in Australia and Canada, he has performed live audio-visual works in Australia, New Zealand, Italy and the UK, and he has published academic articles in numerous print and online journals. He is also an associate editor for the online peer-reviewed journal Transformations. He holds an interdisciplinary PhD from Concordia University in Montreal.
E-mail: grayson.cooke@scu.edu.au

REBECCA COYLE
A/Prof Rebecca Coyle teaches in the Media studies program at Southern Cross University, Australia. She has published two anthologies on Australian feature film music, and coordinated an Australian Research Council Discovery Project on Australian film music production and innovation. In 2010, her anthology of essays on animation film music, Drawn to Sound: Animation Film Music and Sonicity (Equinox Publishing, UK) was launched.
Email: rebecca.coyle@scu.edu.au

ADOLFO CRUZADO
Adolfo Cruzado is a Sydney-based writer, musician and media producer. He studied history and fine arts at the University of Sydney, contemporary music at Southern Cross University and screenwriting and media production at the Australian Film, Television and Radio School (Sydney). He worked in theatre productions for ten years before diversifying into film and television media productions, and currently works as a freelance TV editor.
Email: adolfo_cruzado@yahoo.com.au

JEANETTE DELAMOIR
Jeannette Delamoir taught at Central Queensland University for 11 years. She worked at the National Film and Sound Archive during 2008, where she contributed to production of The Sentimental Bloke DVD and, in 2011, was a NFSA Scholar in Residence.
Email: jeannette.delamoir@yahoo.com.au

MICHAEL HANNAN
Professor Michael Hannan established the Contemporary Music program at Southern Cross University, Australia, where he teaches composition and music theory. He authored two books, Peter Sculthorpe: His Music and Ideas 1929-1979 (University of Queensland Press, 1982) and The Australian Guide to Careers in Music (UNSW Press, 2003), and was a CI on an ARC Discovery project on Australian feature film music, including cataloguing scores in the Brian May archive. In 2008, he researched Australian feature film scores 1930-61 as a NFSA Scholar in Residence.
Email: michael.hannan@scu.edu.au
PHILIP HAYWARD
Professor Philip Hayward is Director of Research Training at Southern Cross University, Australia. He has edited two volumes on screen sound – Off The Planet: Music, Sound and Science Fiction Cinema (John Libbey, 2004) and Terror Tracks: Music, Sound and Horror Cinema (Equinox, 2009) – and, as a team of ARC Discovery Project researchers, has investigated uses of music in contemporary Australian cinema.
Email: prhsicri@gmail.com

MATTHEW HILL
Dr Matthew Hill completed a PhD at James Cook University (QLD, Australia) in 2007 with a practice-based study researching the influence of new technologies on music creation in a variety of genres from both an historical, analytical and personal practice perspectives. He currently teaches across a range of education sectors in the Northern Rivers region of NSW including at the Southern Cross University, Northern Rivers Conservatorium and in private guitar and keyboard tuition. Matthew is an active performer (keyboards and laptop) and composer in contemporary jazz, rock and electronic styles and has composed music for short films and theatre.
Email: mattsound22@gmail.com

ANTHONY LINDEN JONES
Anthony Linden Jones is currently a PhD candidate at the Sydney Conservatorium of Music, researching the representation of Aboriginality in Australian film music. He is a recipient of a Scholars and Artists in Residence research fellowship with the National Film and Sound Archive. Anthony has presented papers at a range of conferences, including for the Musicological Society of Australia, New Zealand Musicology Society, and Music and the Moving Image (New York). He is a composer of film and concert music, having won several awards, and directs an a cappella choir, Chorella, based in Richmond, NSW.
Email: ajon4390@uni.sydney.edu.au

NATALIE LEWANDOWSKI
Natalie Lewandowski is a BCommerce (2006) and BA Hons (2007) graduate from Macquarie University, Sydney. Natalie was awarded the Macquarie University prize for E-commerce in 2005 and First class Honours for her thesis “Sound...Tracks” in 2007. Natalie has worked as a research assistant, as well as marketing manager, sponsorship coordinator and public relations manager for numerous arts and retail organisations, and is currently completing her PhD at Macquarie University.
Email: natalie.lewandowski@students.mq.edu.au

ELEANOR MCPHEE
Eleanor McPhee is a PhD candidate at the University of Western Sydney. She has a Bachelor of Music in performance from the University of Sydney and First Class Honours from the University of Western Sydney. She is a multi-instrumentalist, a band and orchestra director, and plays woodwinds in The Moving Pictures Show.
Email: emcphee@iinet.net.au
GUY MORROW
Dr Guy Morrow lecturers in music business, arts management, rhythm and music theory at Macquarie University and is currently researching artist management practices in the global economy with the International Music Managers' Forum. He is also an artist manager who has worked with numerous artists including his current client, Boy & Bear. He has recently published articles concerning Radiohead’s post EMI career strategy and the operation of Australian music management and production companies, Engine Room and Eleven Music.
Email: guy.morrow@mq.edu.au

KARL NEUENFELDT
A/Prof Karl Neuenfeldt trained in anthropology and cultural studies. His academic research is primarily in the area of popular music and he did his PhD on Indigenous music. At Central Queensland University, Australia, he specialises in Indigenous Australian music and recording studio practice. He is also an active musician, songwriter and producer.
Email: k.neuenfeldt@cqu.edu.au

JAN THORP
Jan Thorp has a MA (Hons) from the University of Western Sydney and a DipMusEd from the Sydney Conservatorium. She is a music teacher who specialises in performance practice and runs a large music school program in southern Sydney. Since the mid-2000s, she has produced The Moving Picture Show events, a silent picture show in the format of early Sydney cinema screenings, using the original music published for the films.
Email: thoda@tpg.com.au